

Second-Class Baseball Teams in Philadelphia Competition Fliv in Games With Top-Notch Clubs

BASEBALL TEAMS TO DO OWN CLASSIFYING

Will Be Asked to Post Bond for $200 by Philadelphia Baseball Association: Is Not Compulsory

TO CONSIDER UMPIRES

By WILLIAM S. DALLAS

THE teams in the Philadelphia Baseball Association will do their own classifying. At a special meeting of the organization it was recommended that the Board of Governors consider the placing of a bond for protection and insurance of $200.

When the association was launched about a dozen new teams came into existence as first-class clubs, and as many more which heretofore had played in the second class imagined overnight that they would be able to arrange games with the big teams.

They have floundered, and in some cases their guarantees have gone with them. The big clubs were invited to receive what was taken in at the gate and let it go at that.

That kind of business is not so good with the first-class teams, and several made strenuous complaints at the meeting, and one even threatened to withdraw. But it was pointed out that in the short life of the organization wonderful progress had been made, and in nearly every instance the trouble was with the managers.

Same Last Year

The practice of cutting guarantees and cancelling games at short notice was in vogue last year. One of the motives of the organization was to eliminate such evils. It takes time to get new machinery working smoothly, and one of the ways to graduate to the top of the trouble is to file a bond as suggested.

It is not compulsory and will not be a hardship on the first-class teams who could easily put up a bond for $1000. It means that a lot of second-raters posing as first-class teams will get in the class they belong.

Second-raters can be scheduled if the big teams desire, but with no bond in the association offices they will be at the mercy of the team they play.

But on the other hand, if a bond is filed and a team cancels, the Board of Governors have something to work on in that they can award the forfeited team financial remuneration. At present a team can do as it pleases and no action can be taken, as there is no money at stake.

If a team is fined they must immediately make the $200 intact again. But a team that does not file the bond stands just as high in the association, but they will hardly get games with the larger clubs, as there is nothing to fall back on in case of cancellation, etc.

SPHAS VS. TERMINAL CLASH LOOKS GOOD

South Phillies Will Oppose Bridesburg in Tonight's Twilight Contest

SHANAHAN AT NORTH PHILS

The schedule of the local twilights is not such a heavy one this evening. One of the best games should result from the meeting of the South Philadelphia Terminal and Philadelphia Phillies. The game will be played at Thirtieth and Johnson streets. Dick Smith, of the railroaders, will use Tommy Volz or Eddie Barreis on the hill, while Eddie Gottlieb will work the South Phillies further down the street. Shanahan at North Phils

Despite two defeats at the hands of Ardmore, Johnny Castle is not in the last downhearted. He will take Shanahan to the North Phils home field at Fourth and Wingo streets tonight and oppose the upholders. Sox Sebold or Jim Clancy will be in the box for the Phils, while Castle figures at Means is about right to land Shanahan on the long end of the score.

Another important game uptown is at Tenth and Butler streets, where Fleisher meets Newtown. The yarners are going at a terrific clip with a pitching staff consisting of McKenty, Grieshaber, Mehan and Barrett. Mehan pitched yesterday and Grieshaber will pitch for the first time in two weeks. Carson will oppose him. A week ago Carson beat Hilldale.

The Stenton Field Club is at home with St. Barnabas, and at Thirtieth and Columbia avenue the Merrill Pros oppose Fox Motor. The latter has been making great records for victories and expects to add Marty Wolfson's team to the list.

Switch in West Philly

With the Mackey club switching its home nights to Tuesday and Thursday it means that only one game is under way in that neighborhood tonight. The Donovan-Armstrong advertisers meet Camden City and hope to get started after losing a number of close contests.

The Mackey team will be at Forty eighth Ward tonight and Pat O'Brien will likely use Cliff Hart in the box for the politicians.

Reinhold's Pros Are Busy

Harry Reinhold's Philadelphia Professionals have made a wonderful record in the last few days. The club won a game at Camden City and a game at Philadelphia. The game was a close one, with the Philadelphia club leading 3 to 2 in the eighth inning, but the South Philadelphia club came back and won 4 to 3.

PUBLIC LINKS GOLFERS TO HAVE OWN TOURNEY

Best of Tribe May Also Be Entered in U. S. Open

New York, May 22.—Recognition has been extended to the public links golfer, and the best of the tribe may be entered in the tournament for the United States open championship.

First, however, those who trail over the crowded, free-to-everyone links will have a national tournament of their own. This year the United States Golf Association plans to stage at Toledo August 25 to 31, but the dates are tentative. Amateurs unaffiliated with a club are eligible.

James D. Standish, Jr., a member of the association's Executive Committee, has offered a permanent prize to be known as the Standish Trophy, and the association will give gold medals to the qualifying leader and the runner-up. The country has been divided into six districts for registration, and the cup will be held by the region which the winning player represents.

The tournament will consist of a thirty-six-hole qualifying round, followed by an eighteen-hole match round, except the last day, which will be a thirty-six holes.
